3rd Generation Paint and Body

Auto body shop · Sanger, TX

Your Google listing is doing real work: 25 reviews averaging a perfect 5.0, and first in the map pack for three of the five searches we ran. The gap is what happens after someone finds you. There is no website of your own behind that listing, no booking link, and for two of the five searches, 'auto body shop near me' and hail damage jobs, a competitor shows up ahead of you.

Your profile is claimed, detailed, and ranks first in three of the five searches we ran, with more reviews than any nearby competitor. There is no booking link, Saturday and Sunday hours are blank, and only 11 photos are on the listing.

What is holding this grade down: No booking link, blank weekend hours, and only 11 photos on an otherwise strong listing.

in your name

Everything we build or correct stays in your name: your website, domain and Google Business Profile. You keep every login.

Your reviews and your map position are already pulling their weight. The gap is what a customer finds after that: nothing with your name on it.

A short call would walk through the rest: what a customer sees when they search 'auto body shop near me' instead of your name, and what happens to a hail-season call on a weekend when the listing shows no hours at all.
