Onyx Nail Bar

Nail Salon · 1701 Shoal Creek #120d, Highland Village, TX 75077

Your Google listing is doing real work: a 4.5 star rating across 704 reviews, and you rank #1 to #3 in the map pack for every nail search we ran from Highland Village. Your website is a single page with no structured data, a duplicate main heading, and no page the Internet Archive has ever captured. Google already sends you the traffic; the page it lands on isn't built to make the most of it.

YOUR GOOGLE LISTING

A strong profile that's gone a little quiet.

Claimed, categorized, and carrying 704 reviews at 4.5 stars, with 463 photos and a booking link already on it. Posting is the one real gap: nothing since July 1.

What is holding this grade down: No Google Post since July 1, about three months of silence on a profile that otherwise does its job.

YOUR WEBSITE

One page doing more than it should have to.

The homepage loads securely, has 5 click to call links, and a booking button. It also carries no schema, no canonical tag, two competing headlines, and the Internet Archive has never captured it.

What is holding this grade down: No structured data, no canonical tag, two H1 headings on one page, and only the one page total.

— WHAT IS ALREADY WORKING

- ✓ 4.5 stars across 704 Google reviews.
- ✓ #1 to #3 in the map pack for all six nail salon searches we ran from Highland Village.
- ✓ 5 tap-to-call phone numbers on the homepage.
- ✓ 463 photos on the Google listing.

— THE GAPS THAT MATTER MOST

Structured data

No schema markup of any kind.

Page count

The entire site is one page.

Canonical tag

No canonical tag on the page.

Searched from Highland Village, Oct 4. Your phone may show a slightly different order depending on where you're standing.

You're #1 in the map pack for four of the six searches we ran. Highland Nails and Spa and Trifecta Nail Spa lead the map pack on the other two, never outside the top three. Organically (the website itself, not the map pack), your own page ranks for three of the six; for the other three, something other than your own site holds that spot.

— WHAT NEEDS WORK

- ✗ Structured data. No schema markup of any kind.
- ✗ Page count. The entire site is one page.
- ✗ Canonical tag. No canonical tag on the page.
- ✗ Sitemap. The sitemap lists one page.
- ✗ Main headline. Two H1 headings compete on the same page instead of one.

Yours to keep in your name

Not covered by this job: Per-service landing pages, Site history, Post freshness, Location signal on page. Worth a conversation. Everything we build or correct stays in your name: your website, domain and Google Business Profile. You keep every login.

This is only what shows from the outside, and the map is already doing its job.

A short call would walk through the rest: what a visitor sees after they tap through, and what's worth doing first.
