PREPARED AUGUST 2026

■ PREPARED FOR

Spa Haven

Website Audit & Growth Plan · Day spa

A free, no-obligation look at how Spa Haven shows up online today, and what we would do about it.

■ THE SHORT VERSION

Your website is in better shape than most of what we audit. It is a real site on a real platform, the schema is thorough, the pages exist. The problem is what it says about where you are. The homepage title and description name Frisco, and when we searched for massage in Highland Village, the line Google printed under your link read Luxury Massage Spa and Wellness Center in Frisco, TX. On top of that, there is no way to tap your phone number anywhere on the homepage.

■ WHAT IS ALREADY WORKING

- 209 Google reviews at 4.4. That is a substantial body of feedback for a spa, and it is the kind of number that takes years and cannot be bought.
- The technical foundation is genuinely good. The site publishes 15 different types of structured data, including a proper day spa type, your postal address, your opening hours and your map coordinates. Most sites we audit publish none of that.
- You are fourth on the plain results for massage in Highland Village, and the site has real pages behind it rather than one page pretending to be a website.

DIMENSION	GRADE	ASSESSMENT
Google Business Profile  88	B⁺	209 reviews at 4.4 with the website linked. Strong, and the rating is the one part of it with room in it.
Website quality  70	C⁻	Well built and pointed at the wrong city. The plumbing is right, the schema is thorough, and the two tags that tell Google where you are name Frisco.
Local search visibility  56	F	Fourth on one search out of three, absent on the other two, and on the one you do rank for Google prints another city beside your name.
Turning visitors into customers  70	C⁻	There is a map and the hours are published properly. There is no tappable phone number anywhere on the homepage.
OVERALL  71 C⁻

Each row is the straight average of the graded checks in the sections covering it, and the overall is the average of the four rows. Every check and its number is printed in sections 03 through 06. Letters follow the ordinary school band, so 93 and above is an A, the eighties are Bs, the seventies Cs, the sixties Ds, and anything under 60 is an F. We did not soften it.

■ WHAT WE WOULD FIX, IN ORDER

1 Tell Google which town you are in	4 Tidy the homepage
2 Make it possible to book with one tap	5 Move the 4.4
3 Write pages for the treatments you are absent from	6 Get clients back in the chair

01 is the free do-it-yourself list, 03 and 04 grade each piece, 05 works through the 6 fixes, 06 is who we are and what we charge.

01 Fixes You Can Make Yourself, Free

■ SIX THINGS YOU CAN FIX YOURSELF, WITHOUT PAYING ANYBODY

This audit is yours to use however you want, with us or without us. Your site runs on WordPress, which means somebody with the login can do most of what follows in an afternoon. We put it first on purpose. Everything from here down is the diagnosis. This page is the part you can act on before you finish reading.

01 Put Highland Village in the homepage title and description

This is the most valuable free thing on the list. Your homepage title reads Luxury Massage Spa & Wellness Center in Frisco, TX and the description names Frisco twice. Neither names Highland Village. Those two lines are what Google shows a searcher, and we watched it show them on a Highland Village search. Somebody in Highland Village reading that has to work out whether you are near them, and some of them will not bother. Both fields are editable in your SEO plugin.

02 Make the phone number tappable

There are 0 tappable phone numbers on the homepage. The number is printed, it is just not a link, so on a phone it is something to read rather than something to press. Somebody who has decided to book has to memorise the digits, leave the site and dial. In WordPress this is a two-minute change and it is worth more than most redesigns.

03 Cut the homepage down to one main headline

There are 6 competing top-level headlines on the page. Google reads the main headline to work out what a page is about and is built to find one of them. With 6, none of them counts for much. Step five of them down a level in the page builder and leave the one that actually names what you do and where.

04 Write the 3 missing alt texts

There are 30 images on the homepage and 3 of them carry no alt text, the short written description that tells a search engine what a picture shows. Your coverage is already better than most. This is finishing the job, and it takes about ten minutes.

05 Quote your reviews on your own site

You have 209 of them and your website borrows none of that. Copying a handful onto the homepage with the client's first name costs nothing and is more persuasive than anything a copywriter would write for you.

06 Update the homepage

The Internet Archive records the homepage content as last changing on 16 March 2025. Nothing about that is broken, and a spa is not a news site. But a page that has not moved in over a year is a page nobody has looked at with fresh eyes in over a year, and the two tags above are proof of what can sit unnoticed.

■ WHERE YOU STAND TODAY

We audit a lot of sites that are held together with tape, and this is not one of them. Spa Haven runs on WordPress, publishes 15 types of structured data including a proper day spa type with your address, hours and map coordinates, lays out correctly on a phone, and has real pages behind the homepage. Somebody built this properly. Two things undercut it. The first is geography: the homepage title reads Luxury Massage Spa & Wellness Center in Frisco, TX and the meta description names Frisco twice, and when we searched for massage in Highland Village on 4 August 2026, that Frisco title is the line Google printed under your result. We are not going to guess at why the tags read that way, because we did not look at anything beyond the homepage code. We can only tell you what a Highland Village searcher sees. The second is simpler and costs you money every day: there are 0 tappable phone numbers on the homepage. The number is on the page as text. On a phone, that is the difference between deciding to book and actually booking. Beyond those two, the picture is mixed rather than bad. You are fourth on the plain results for massage in Highland Village, absent from the top ten for med spa, and on a search for a facial in Highland Village the only thing of yours that appeared was your Facebook page.

03 Google Business Profile Audit

This is the strongest section in the report. Your Google Business Profile is doing its job. The number beside each check is what it contributes to the 88 on page two.

ELEMENT	GRADE	SCORE	ASSESSMENT
Rating	B	84	4.4 on the live profile. That is a good rating and it is also the one number in this section with room in it. The gap between a 4.4 and a 4.8 in a service where people are choosing on how they will be treated is worth real money.

ELEMENT	GRADE	SCORE	ASSESSMENT
Review volume	A ⁻	 90	209 reviews. That is a substantial body of feedback for a spa and it is why the profile carries the business.
Website link	A ⁻	 90	The profile links through to thespahaven.com, so the attention Google sends has somewhere to land.

Detailed findings

What we did not check, and are not going to guess at

We did not record a map-pack position for you, so there is no map ranking in this report and you should not read one into it. We also did not sign in to your account, which means the description, the services and products section, and whether the profile carries current photos and posts were not visible to us. Those are the parts most businesses leave half filled in, and we are not going to tell you yours are empty when we have not looked. Sign in and read each section. If they are already full, ignore this.

The rating is the one thing here worth working on

A 4.4 across 209 reviews is a real reputation. It also means a meaningful number of people did not have the visit they wanted, and in a spa that is almost never about the treatment itself. It is about the booking, the wait, the room being ready, or somebody not hearing what a client asked for. We cannot see any of that from outside. What we can say is that this is the single number a competitor comparison comes down to when two spas are a mile apart, and it is the number that moves fastest when somebody starts asking every client and answering every review.

How you compare locally We did not run a competitor comparison for you, because the three searches we ran did not produce a stable set of rivals to compare against. On massage in Highland Village you are fourth. On med spa you are not in the top ten. On facial the only thing of yours that appeared was your Facebook page. That is the comparison that matters and it is with yourself: you rank when the search matches the words on your homepage, and you do not when it does not.

04 Website & SEO Audit

■ TECHNICAL & FOUNDATIONS

This is the plumbing a search engine needs before it can understand the site. Yours is in better condition than most, with two exceptions that happen to be the two that decide what a searcher reads. These six checks and the four in the next block are what average out to the 70 on page two.

ELEMENT	GRADE	SCORE	ASSESSMENT
Page title	F	 45	50 characters, well written, and it names Frisco. For your Frisco location that is correct. For a Highland Village search it is the first thing a searcher reads and it points them at another city.
Meta description	D ⁺	 67	145 characters, a proper full sentence rather than a trailing fragment, and it names Frisco twice. That is the grey line under your link in the results.
Heading structure	F	 45	6 competing main headlines on one page. Google is built to find one and use it to decide what the page is about.
Mobile layout	A	 95	The page is set to lay out at the width of whatever device opens it, and the stylesheet carries a large number of rules for adapting to smaller screens. On a phone this site behaves.
Structured data (schema)	A ⁻	 92	15 types of structured data with no parse errors, including a day spa type, your postal address, your opening hours, your map coordinates and your services. This is the best schema we have seen in this batch and it is worth saying so.
Canonical tag	B ⁺	 88	Present. That is the line of code that tells Google which address for a page is the real one, and its absence is one of the commonest faults we find. You do not have it.

Detailed findings

Two tags are doing more damage than everything else in this section combined

Your title and your meta description are the only part of your website a searcher reads before deciding whether to click. Everything else on this page, the schema, the canonical, the mobile layout, is machinery that works correctly and invisibly. The title reads Luxury Massage Spa & Wellness Center in Frisco, TX. The description names Frisco twice. We read both off the live homepage and then watched Google print that title on a Highland Village search. We are deliberately not telling you why they read that way, because we only fetched your homepage and anything else would be us guessing at your setup. What we can tell you is the effect: a person in Highland Village looking for a massage sees another city's name where yours should be.

The rest of this section is quietly excellent

Fifteen schema types with zero parse errors is not normal. It means a search engine can read your address, your hours, your coordinates and what you sell without having to interpret a page. The canonical is in place. The viewport is set correctly and the stylesheet has real work behind it for small screens. We mention all of this because the grade on this row is a C minus and we do not want that read as a verdict on the build. It is a verdict on two lines of text sitting on top of a good build.

Six headlines is five too many

The main headline is how a page tells a search engine, in one sentence, what it is. When a page builder emits six of them the signal thins out and Google decides for itself. This is free to fix and it is item three on your section 01 list.

■ ON-PAGE & CONTENT

This is what a person and a search engine actually read. It is the shortest section in your report, because unlike most sites we audit, yours has content. These four checks and the six above average out to the 70 on page two.

ELEMENT	GRADE	SCORE	ASSESSMENT
Content depth	C+	77	There is a real amount of writing on the homepage. Not a lot, but enough that a search engine has something to work with and a visitor has something to read. That puts you ahead of most of this batch.
The city named on your homepage	F	40	The title and the description both name Frisco. Neither names Highland Village. These are the two fields Google leans on hardest to work out which town a page belongs to.
Image alt text	B+	88	30 images on the homepage, 3 of them with no alt text. Coverage is good. Finishing it is a ten-minute job.
Freshness	D	63	The Internet Archive records the homepage content as last changing on 16 March 2025. The site is maintained rather than abandoned, but it has been sitting untouched for over a year.

Detailed findings

You have the thing most of our prospects do not, which changes what the work is

Most sites in this batch are a homepage and nothing else, and the entire recommendation is write some pages. Yours has pages. The homepage has writing on it. The schema describes what you sell. That means nobody needs to build you a website from scratch to fix what this audit found, and we would rather say that plainly than sell you one you do not need. What needs doing is smaller and more surgical: name the right city, make the phone tappable, cut the headlines down, and then start writing for the searches you are absent from.

A facial search returns your Facebook page and not your website

On 4 August 2026 we searched for a facial in Highland Village. Your website did not appear in the top ten. Your Facebook page did. That is Google saying it knows the business does facials and could not find a page of yours worth ranking. Facebook decides what that visitor sees, puts a competitor's advert beside your name, and cannot be optimised. Until there is a page that argues for facials in Highland Village specifically, that click belongs to Facebook rather than to you.

■ LOCAL SEO & RANKINGS

Every search below was run by hand on 4 August 2026. Read the table before the grades. This is the weakest row in the report and the table is what explains why. These four checks average out to the 56 on page two.

ELEMENT	GRADE	SCORE	ASSESSMENT
Ranking on the main search	B-	 82	Fourth on the plain results for massage in Highland Village. That is a real position on the first page and we are not going to pretend otherwise.
Rankings on the other two searches	F	 20	Absent from the top ten for med spa in Highland Village. Absent for facial in Highland Village, where only your Facebook page appeared.
What Google prints beside your name	F	 38	On the one search you do rank for, the title Google rendered names Frisco. The click you earned is being handed to a searcher with the wrong town attached to it.
Name and address consistency	B	 84	The business name and the Marketplace Lane address agree between your website and your Google profile. Mismatches here are a common reason a listing underperforms, and yours does not have that problem.

Checked by hand, 4 August 2026

SEARCH	THESPAHAVEN.COM	WHAT WE SAW
massage highland village tx	Position 4	Google rendered your title as Luxury Massage Spa & Wellness Center in Frisco, TX
med spa highland village tx	Absent	Not in the top ten
facial highland village tx	Absent	Your own Facebook page

Detailed findings

You rank for the word that is on your homepage, and nothing else

Look at the pattern rather than the positions. Massage is the word in your title, and massage is the search you rank for. Med spa and facial are not in the two tags Google reads first, and those are the two searches you are absent from. That is not a coincidence and it is not a penalty. It is a search engine doing exactly what it says it does, which is rank the page whose words match the search. The good news in that is how mechanical it is. Nothing here has to be won back. It has to be written.

The Frisco title is costing you the click you already earned

Fourth place on the first page is an asset. You paid for it with a site that works and a profile people review. Then the line printed underneath it names a different town. A searcher in Highland Village who is skimming five results will not stop to work out that you have two locations. This is the cheapest fix in the entire report, it is free, it is item one on your section 01 list, and it improves a ranking you already hold rather than chasing one you do not.

■ TURNING VISITORS INTO CUSTOMERS

Being found only counts if the visitor can then do something, whether that is call, work out where you are, or decide you are the right spa. These four checks average out to the 70 on page two.

ELEMENT	GRADE	SCORE	ASSESSMENT
Click-to-call	F	 25	0 tappable phone numbers on the homepage. The number is printed as text, so on a phone it is something to read rather than something to press.
Address and hours available to a search engine	A-	 90	Your schema publishes a postal address, an opening-hours block and map coordinates, so Google can read all three without a person having to hunt the page for them.
Enough on the page to decide	B-	 80	There is writing on the homepage and 30 images. A visitor can form an impression, which is more than most sites in this batch allow.
Directions and map	B	 85	The homepage carries an embedded map. Somebody working out whether you are a convenient drive can answer that without leaving the site.

Detailed findings

One missing link is the whole grade on this row

Take the click-to-call check out and this section scores in the high eighties. Everything else here is right: the map is embedded, the address and hours are published in code, and there is enough on the page to form a judgement. The single failure is that on a phone, the moment somebody decides to book, there is nothing to press. They have to hold the number in their head, leave the site and open the dialler, and a proportion of them do not. This is free, it is item two on your section 01 list, and it is the highest-value ten minutes anybody could spend on this website.

What we could not see from outside

Your meta description mentions booking online and your schema publishes offers and services, but we did not test a booking flow, we did not call the number, and we did not check what happens to an enquiry after somebody sends one. Those are usually where the larger gaps are in a business like this, and none of them can be audited from a laptop. We would rather list them as questions for the sit-down than invent findings about them.

05 Your Growth Plan

We will start with the part that costs us money to say. Most of the proposals we send open by explaining that a business needs a new website. Yours does not. Spa Haven runs on a real platform, publishes better structured data than anything else we looked at this week, lays out properly on a phone and has actual pages behind the homepage. Somebody built this with care. What it has are two specific faults sitting on top of a good build: the homepage title and description name Frisco rather than Highland Village, and there is no way to tap your phone number. Both are free to fix and both are on your section 01 list. What follows is the rest of it, in the order we would do it. Three of the six are free in full and we say so where that applies.

Six fixes, in the order we would do them. Each one is a finding from your audit, what it costs you while it sits there, and what we would do about it.

1 The homepage title and description name Frisco, not Highland Village

This is the cheapest fix in the report and the one with the clearest cost attached. On 4 August 2026 we searched for massage in Highland Village. You came fourth on the first page, which is a real position that a working site and 209 reviews bought you. The line Google printed under your link read Luxury Massage Spa & Wellness Center in Frisco, TX. Somebody skimming five results in Highland Village reads a different town's name and moves on. You are not losing the ranking. You are losing the click after the ranking.

OUR FIX Rewrite the homepage title and description so Highland Village is in both, and make sure whatever a Highland Village searcher lands on says Highland Village on it. This is item one on your free list and it is editable in your SEO plugin. We are not going to speculate about why the tags read the way they do, because we only fetched your homepage. Whoever set the site up will know in about a minute.

THE RESULT The click you already earned goes to a searcher who can tell you are near them.

2 There are no tappable phone numbers on the homepage

The number is printed. It is just not a link, so on a phone it is something to read rather than something to press. Somebody who has decided on a massage has to hold the digits in their head, leave your site and open the dialler, and a share of them do not come back. Take this one check out of section 06 and that whole row scores in the high eighties. It is the single item dragging it down.

OUR FIX Turn the printed number into a link, in the header and again near the bottom. This is item two on your free list and it is roughly ten minutes of somebody's time in WordPress. Do it today whether or not you ever hire us.

THE RESULT The gap between deciding to book and booking is one thumb.

3 Absent from the top ten for med spa, and on a facial search only your Facebook page appeared

Look at the pattern rather than the positions. Massage is the word in your homepage title, and massage is the search you rank for. Med spa and facial are not in the tags Google reads first, and those are the two searches your website does not appear on. On the facial search the thing Google chose to show was your own Facebook page, which puts a competitor's advert beside your name and shows a visitor whatever Facebook decides to show them. That is not a penalty and there is nothing to win back. There is simply no page of yours arguing for those treatments in this town.

OUR FIX A page for each treatment worth ranking for, written the way you would explain it to a client at the front desk, and a page that makes the Highland Village case properly. This is the largest piece of work in the plan and it is the one we would actually be doing for you month after month.

THE RESULT The searches where your Facebook page currently answers for you get a page of yours instead.

4 6 competing main headlines and 3 images with no alt text

Google reads the main headline to work out what a page is about, and it is built to find one. With 6 of them the signal thins out and the search engine decides for itself what your page is. The missing alt text matters less, but a spa website is mostly photography, and a picture with no written description is a picture a search engine cannot read.

OUR FIX The whole of this item is free and it is items three and four on your section 01 list. Step five headlines down a level, keep the one that names what you do and where, and write the 3 missing descriptions. Do it yourself and keep the money.

THE RESULT The page tells Google what it is about in one sentence, on purpose.

5 209 reviews at 4.4, with nothing systematic keeping the number climbing

A 4.4 across 209 reviews is a real reputation, and it also means a meaningful number of visits did not go the way the client wanted. In a spa that is almost never the treatment. It is the booking, the wait, the room not being ready, or somebody not hearing what was asked for. We cannot see any of that from outside and we are not going to pretend we can. What we can say is that when two spas a mile apart are being compared on a phone, the rating is what the comparison comes down to, and yours is the number in this audit with the most room in it.

OUR FIX A request that goes out automatically after the appointment instead of depending on somebody at the desk remembering, replies written and posted on every review that comes in, and the quiet part that matters most: the unhappy ones answered first and answered properly.

THE RESULT The number that decides the comparison starts moving in the right direction, on a schedule rather than by luck.

6 209 reviews from people who came in at least once, and no visible way to reach any of them again

We want to flag this clearly: it is an inference, not a finding. We cannot see your booking records from outside. What we can see is a business whose economics run on people coming back, and no sign on the public side of a list, a membership, a rebooking prompt or a campaign that reaches somebody who has not been in for six months. If you already run all of that, tell us at the sit-down and we will take it off the plan and off the price.

OUR FIX Every client in one place, rebooking and win-back campaigns that go out on a schedule, and enquiry follow-up in minutes rather than whenever somebody reaches the inbox.

THE RESULT The people who already liked it enough to review you hear from you again without anybody having to remember.

06 Who We Are & What It Costs

■ WHO IS SENDING YOU THIS

Top Shelf Solutions builds and runs the online side of small businesses in North Texas. Websites and local SEO are where most people meet us, but the work usually ends up broader than that, because the website is rarely the only gap. We do all of the following, and a business your size normally uses four or five of them rather than all ten. Two of the businesses running on this are Your Neighborhood GDR and TAP Services. Both of those are ours, which is the reason we can show you the whole thing working instead of handing you a testimonial. If you want to talk to either of them, ask at the sit-down and we will put you in touch.

■ THE ONE WE WOULD PUT YOU ON

Signature Blend

MOST POPULAR

$899

Per month, everything below included. There is no setup fee and no build fee, and a new website is part of the plan rather than a line item on top of it. Telecom usage, meaning phone numbers and SMS, is billed at what it costs us. The term is six months to start and then month to month after that, with 30 days notice to cancel. Your website, your domain, your Google profile, your phone numbers, your review profiles and your client list are in your name from the first day and you keep all of it if you ever leave. The CRM platform itself stays ours, the same as any software you subscribe to, and your data exports whenever you want it.

■ WHAT COMES WITH IT

- A new custom website, built and hosted
- Your Google Business Profile optimized
- Advanced SEO, worked every month
- AI Receptionist, answering around the clock and booking the appointment
- Missed-call text-back on your main line
- Review requests sent automatically
- Review responses written and posted for you
- The Top Shelf CRM, every client in one place
- Rebooking and win-back campaigns
- Lead follow-up in under five minutes
- Lead-capture forms, and booking if you use it
- A plain-English dashboard every month

■ WHY THIS ONE, FOR SPA HAVEN SPECIFICALLY

The website, and why we would probably not rebuild it	Here is the part that costs us money to put in writing. The plan includes a new custom website, and we do not think you need one. Your site publishes 15 types of structured data with no errors, has a canonical tag, lays out correctly on a phone, and has real pages behind it. Replacing that with our five-page build would be a downgrade, and we are not going to pretend otherwise to make the line item look better. What we would rather do is work on the site you have: fix the two tags, make the number tappable, cut the headlines down, and then spend the months writing the pages you are missing. If at some point you want a rebuild for reasons of your own, it is in the plan and it costs nothing extra. That is a conversation for the sit-down, not a decision we are making for you here.
Your Google profile	209 reviews with the site linked is a strong profile and most of the work here is protection and finishing. We did not sign in to your account, so the description, the services section and the photos are unknown to us and we are not going to invent findings about them. Section 01 tells you how to check them yourself, free.
Advanced SEO	This is the part you are actually buying. You rank for the one word that is in your homepage title and you are absent on the other two searches we ran. That is a writing problem with a schedule attached: pages for the treatments, a page that makes the Highland Village case, and the months of unglamorous work that gets Google to trust them. It is the item on this list that cannot be done in an afternoon and cannot be done once.
Reviews, both ways	A 4.4 across 209 reviews is the number in your audit with the most room in it, and it is the number a client compares you on. The system asks every client rather than whoever the front desk remembers, and it replies to what comes in, which is the half almost nobody does. The unhappy ones are where the movement is.
AI Receptionist	We could not test this from outside, so treat it as a question rather than a finding. A spa cannot answer the phone with a room full of clients, and calls after closing go somewhere. The receptionist is software, not a person, and it answers every time, books into your calendar, and texts back anything it cannot handle so a real answer follows in the morning.

CRM and rebooking

This one is an inference, not a finding, and we would rather label it than dress it up. Your business runs on people coming back and we cannot see whether anything reaches them between visits. If you already keep a list and run rebooking properly, say so and we will take this off the plan and off the price conversation.

This is the plan most businesses start on, and it is the one we would put you on, because the fixes in your growth plan that are not free live inside it. There is a smaller plan below it at $499. It builds you a website at no charge, and in your case that is the least interesting thing on offer, because you already have one that works. What the smaller plan leaves out is everything that keeps working after a site goes live: SEO worked every month, review responses written and posted for you, the client database and the rebooking campaigns that reach people you currently have no way to reach, a receptionist covering the hours a spa cannot answer the phone, and enquiry follow-up in under five minutes. That list is the actual reason to hire us. There is a larger plan above it at $1,599. What it mainly adds is paid advertising, and we would rather you did not buy that yet. You are fourth on the first page for massage without paying for it, and the two free fixes in section 01 will do more for that traffic than a budget would. Earn the other searches first. If you still want ads after that, step up then and we will have made the case with your own numbers instead of a promise. One more thing owners ask, so we will answer it before you have to. The audit in your hands and the sample site we built you are what we do before anybody pays us anything. If the sit-down turns up something different, we will tell you that instead.

■ THE BIGGER PICTURE

This is only the part we can see from the outside.

Everything in this document came from what is publicly visible: your listing, your homepage, your rankings. We did not test your booking flow, we did not call the number, and we have no idea what happens to an enquiry after somebody sends one. In a business like yours that is usually where the bigger money is. Calls that come in while every room is occupied. Clients who meant to rebook at the desk and did not. Two hundred and nine reviews from people whose phone numbers we have no way of knowing you have. Give us 20 minutes, at the spa or on the phone, and we will go through those with you and tell you which ones are worth doing and which are not. The audit is free and yours to use however you want, with us or without us.

Let's set up your sit-down.
